

Convocation Connects, Communicates and Celebrates

UWA Graduates - Supporting ALL UWA Students and Graduates

All UWA graduates are lifetime members of Convocation, so they remain connected as part of the University.

There are many ongoing connections between our graduates, through faculties, clubs and personal and professional friendships. Those connections are incredibly valuable for opening opportunities for the students of today and encouraging graduates to keep learning and continue to 'seek wisdom'.

On the ground support

Recently, as a part of the 2030 Vision and the UWA Five Year Strategic Plan, Convocation has been challenged by the University to support students and graduates as they connect with industry for projects and placements, while they study and research, and on graduation. You, your business or community group could benefit greatly by engaging with the current student cohort through Convocation. We can help to facilitate the connections based on your requirements.

Financial Support

Convocation has very limited financial support from the University and yet the Council strive to engage with all our graduates spread far and wide, to keep them informed and to return some of the warmth of our student experience and university years to the students of today. Donations of any amount can support the continued development of Convocation initiatives and to continue to upkeep and build on our means of engagement with all Members. Alternatively, you may be able to financially support Convocation awards and scholarships, as an indication a PGRTA is $3,000, any partial contributions towards these awards are most welcome. Named awards are possible where long term commitments are made and in recognition of outstanding contributions to the University.
